HOWLS OF THE WEST.

Airs His Views on Wives.

Experiences of the Shag of Persia
Give Him Fright--Six Hundred Better Halves
Considered a Calamity.

I did intend to get married some time ago, but I grew discouraged and changed my mind. After reading that the shag of Persia has 600 wives I had no heart to start out in this great seething, bubbling world with only one little, measly, scrawny wife and I gave it up. I could see no pleasure in coming home to dinner, d. yatter day to find the same old ugly wife dressed in the same old mother-hubbard, with the same old frowny hair and the same old dirt under her finger nails--trying the same old face over the cook stove. It is natural that a man with any ambition should yearn for a new wife, new frizzes, new mother-hubbard and new dirt, and I concluded there was no use in trying to get married unless a fellow could do the thing up in shape as the shag of Persia did. But I feel more cheerful since reading that the shag has gone insane.

HEARD OF BETTER HALVES.

The shag's name is Muzaffer-Ed-Din and he has the most extensive herd of better halves in the world today. He started his collection when a mere boy and often sends his ambassadors miles away to get a rare specimen--as his ambition is to have no two alike in size, shape or color. Brigham Young started a collection once, but his handful of wives wasn't a drop in the bucket compared to Muzaffer-Ed-Din's and as for the Sultan of Sulu--Muzaffer has lost more wives than he ever saw. Compared to him Congress Roberts is a widower.

The only man who ever held a candle to Muzaffer in matrimonial matters was Solomon. Josephus, the great Jewish historian, tells us that Solomon had the largest and finest assortment of wives ever collected by a single promoter of connubial bliss.

At the time of his death he was the proud possessor of 700 head of spouses besides a number that died or eloped with the hired men. But Solomon took several hundred years to accumulate his flock of wives, while Muzaffer has gathered his up in the short space of two score. Who can blame him for being crazy?

A FEW CRISSES.

Not only has he got 600 wives, but every Christmas he selects twenty-five more from the latest daughters of his shahdom. And yet the little hatched-faced brute isn't half as handsome as lots of our poor country editors who can't afford even one. If Muzaffer lives to be sixty years old he will have something like 1,700 head of wives. But the ordinary mind reels in contemplation of such a possibility. It is difficult enough to gain any accurate conception of 600. To aid the mind in grasping the import of this great stock company I have prepared a few statistics which the reader can easily verify. Suppose, for instance, that each wife weighs 100 pounds dressed--which is a very conservative estimate--the entire mass would weigh 60,000 pounds! Great balls of snow! Think of having thirty tons of wife and an equal amount of mother-in-law. But let us take yet another view. Suppose each wife to be 5 feet 6 inches tall. Stood one on top of the other they would tower into the empyrean 3,300 feet, or seven times as high as the pyramids of Egypt and four times higher than the Eiffel tower. Their height would be equivalent to that of Mount Vesuvius or the highest peak of the Alleghenies. Dressed in bloomers and stood on their heads one yard apart they would make a picket fence one mile long, and tied together they would make an unbroken chain long enough to span the Mississippi. If piled up like pancakes they would form a stack 200 feet high--but it's dollars to doughnuts the bottom one would be mashed flat. These figures will give the reader some faint conception of the proportions of Muzaffer's wife.

TERMINOUS EXPENSES.

It is estimated that Muzaffer spent during his various courtships for ice cream, buggy rides and Christmas presents about $75,000,000,000. For marriage licenses--with which he now has one whole side of his harem papered--he blew in $600 more and gave the preacher $3,000 for tying his system full of nuptial knots. And then his trouble had only begun. It takes $9,000,000 a year to keep his wives in pin money and on bargain days Muzaffer has to go with-out chewing tobacco to meet expenses. It takes 6,000 yards of calico at 5 cents a yard to make her a wrapper, 3,000 pins to hold it on and 100 dozen side combs to keep her bridle tresses out of the hash. It takes 600 pairs of hose to cover her 1,200 alabaster calves and 900 miles of wire to make her a hoop-skirt. At every spring house-cleaning there are 1,200 discarded corsets on the ash heap and on wash days she has to hang her clothes on the state line and the whole empire smells of suds. It takes four tons of prepared chalk to keep her face white, a car load of soap for her toilet and when she takes her annual bath--the Euphrates goes dry. When she has the sick headache or her 600 mothers comes to spend a week, the Sanhedrin adjourns and Muzaffer goes on a fishing trip. When Mrs. Muzaffer and her mother want to go riding in the park, it takes ninety-seven hay racks and 400 hundred yokes of sacred buffaloes to haul them around and the children are left in Muzaffer's charge. It is said that when he went to trot his first born on his knee one day he let 450 of it fall and wall that went up shattered the widow glass and jolted 1,630 nursing bottles off the pantry shelf. It takes 400 barrels of milk to feed the baby and sixty-six frying pans a year to do the family spunking.

HARROWING EXPERIENCES.

No wonder the shag is crazy. Imagine yourself, my gentle reader, the husband of such a wife! Picture, if you can, this noble man awakened in the night by a terrified shriek from his wife, followed by the agonizing whisper from 500 throats. "Oh, Muzaffer, I'm sure there is a burglar under this bed!" We who have never, never passed through such an ordeal would be lost and undone. But Muzaffer, the "son of the universe," who sits on the throne of Xerxes and Darius and Artaxerxes, isn't undone a bit. He sits boldly upright in the middle of the bed with nightcap awry and peers about the room. To the right of him and to the left of him, as far as the eye can reach in the dim light of the smoky kerosene lamp, is Mrs. Muzaffer-Ed-Din with her back humped and her head buried in the pillows, with muffled shrieks rip up the midnight calm. But Muzaffer shrieks not a solitary shriek. The treasury surplus of the royal harem or the supply of mother-in-laws, may shrink a few, but Muzaffer never shrinks. He is no shrinker. He knows it is like looking for a needle in a haystack to look for a burglar beneath that bed--for the royal bed, mind you, is six feet long and half a mile in width, with Muzaffer in the middle and 300 wives on a side. (The children sleep over in the next country.) But what does Muzaffer do? Does he wring his hands in despair? No! He simply hisses "Rats!" and holds his ears while the feminine shriek that follows, drives the burglar stark, starting mad and he dies a raving maniac.

AN AFFECTING PICTURE.

Muzaffer is a picturesque character and one is thrilled with admiration as he greets a boot-jack and stands in the middle of the parlor floor with the light of battle in his eye, while his wife perches on the bric-a-brac to escape a ferocious mouse which seeks to shun up one of her hundred dozen limbs. When Muzaffer announced his intention recently of going to war 600 pairs of soft arms stood around his neck, 600 heads were laid on his shoulder and 600 sob-choked voices pleaded with him to stay, while briny tears from 600 pairs of pretty eyes made faded spots on the parlor carpet. This is the true story of Muzaffer-Ed-Din--shah of Persia and son of the universe--and his 600 wives.--Alton (Iowa) Democrat.

Croup.

The peculiar cough which indicates croup, is usually well known to the mothers of croupy children. No time should be lost in the treatment of it, and for this purpose no medicine has received more universal approval than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Do not waste valuable time in experimenting with untried remedies, no matter how highly they may be recommended, but give this medicine as directed and all symptoms of croup will quickly disappear. A young woman who applied for a rural school in this county was questioned by the trustees: "What is your position upon whipping children?" My usual position," responded the applicant, "is on a chair, with the child held firmly across my knee, face downward." She got the job.

Don't Worry.
This is easier said than done, yet it may be of some help to consider the matter. If the cause is something over which you have no control it is obvious that worrying will not help the matter in the least. On the other hand, if within your control you have only to act. When you have a cold and fear an attack of pneumonia, buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and use it judiciously and all cause for worry as to the outcome will quickly disappear. There is no danger of pneumonia when it is used. For sale by all druggists.

NASAL CATARRH CURED

Pe-ru-na Cures a Case of Five Years' Standing.

Mr. Rudolph M. Patterson, Chicago, Ill.

Hon. Rudolph M. Patterson, a well-known lawyer, of Chicago, Ill., writes the following letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., at Columbus, Ohio:
Gentlemen--"I have been a sufferer from nasal catarrh for the past five years, and at the earnest solicitation of a friend I tried Peruna and am glad to say it has afforded a complete cure. It is with pleasure I recommend it to others."

There are two things that the whole medical profession agree about concerning catarrh. The first is that catarrh is the most prevalent and omnipresent disease to which the people in the United States are subject. All classes of people have it. Those who stay indoors much and those who go outdoors much. Working classes have it and sedentary classes have it. The doctor finds catarrh to be his constant and over-present foe. It complicates nearly every disease he is called upon to treat.

The second thing about catarrh on highest praise, for it is reliable and will never disappoint you."--Mrs. J. O. Garrett.

Pe-ru-na Cures a Case of Five Years' Standing.

which all doctors agree, is that it is difficult to cure it. Local remedies may give relief but they fail to cure permanently. Sprays or snuffs amount to little or nothing except to give temporary relief.

Catarrh is frequently located in internal organs which cannot be reached by any sort of local treatment. All this is known by every physician.

To devise some systemic internal remedy which would reach catarrh at its source, to eradicate it permanently from the system--this has been the desire of the medical profession for a long time. Forty years ago Dr. Hartman confronted this problem. He believed then that he had solved it. He still believes he has solved it. He cures thousands of people annually. During all these years Peruna has been the remedy upon which he has relied.

It was at first a private prescription, afterwards manufactured expressly for him in large quantities. This remedy, Peruna, is now to be found in every drug store and nearly every home in the land. It is the only reliable internal remedy ever devised to cure any case of catarrh, however long the case may have been standing.

Mr. Camillus Senné, 207 West 125th street, New York, writes:
"I have fully recovered from my catarrhal troubles. I suffered for three years with catarrh of the head, nose and throat. I tried all kinds of medicine without relief, but at last I have been cured by the wonderful remedy called Peruna."

"I read of Peruna in your Almanac, and wrote you for advice, which I followed. After taking one and one-half bottles of Peruna I am entirely cured, and can recommend Peruna to anyone as the best and surest remedy for any catarrhal troubles."--Camillus Senné.

A course of Peruna never fails to bring relief. There is no other remedy like Peruna. Its cures are prompt and permanent.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
